News from Victoria

We have files of the British Colonist to the 12th inst, from which we make up our summary of news from Vancouver's Island and British Columbia.

The Colonist urges the necessity of the Home Government building a navy yard at Esquimalt. That paper says that the building of iron clad ships by the Americans, for service on this Coast, is a significant movement.

The Indians at Cowichan are still dying off with smallpox. The tribes on the Island are in a fair way to be extinguished by this disease.

The Colonist of the 11th inst, contains the following from British Columbia.

In the early part of the week the schooner Caledonia sunk in front of the Royal Engineers camp. Her stern had grounded at low water and on the tide coming in her bows did not rise [illegible] she gradually filled. Capt Jones has come down to obtain the barge [illegible] of the Lake for the purpose of raising her.

Capt Delanie reports having seen the Palmetto and another bark which he took for the Ocean Bird on their way to Nanaimo—the Caledonia met the Enterprise ascending the river shortly after leaving New Westminster on Saturday morning.

The editor of the British Columbian incarcerated at New Westminster for contempt of Court by Judge Begbie, forwarded a written apology last Friday to the Judge and was the same day released from durance vile.

Marks, the assassin, has been convicted of robbery with violence and sentenced to imprisonment for life.

There is a large quantity of floating ice in Fraser river, some as much as seven inches thick.

The steamboat Reliance has made another trip to Yale with 75 tons of merchandise, and brought down about 78 of the men who have been engaged upon the wagon road, reaching New Westminster on Saturday night.

The Col. Moody essayed a trip to Yale but was forced to land her freight at Emory's Bar. Merchants offered Capt Irving on the Reliance a return $12 per ton to convey the goods to their destination, but he declined, having passengers on board. On her return, the Moody from contact with the ice sprung a leak, and was brought down to New Westminster with difficulty.

On Williams Creek, Flour 80c per lb, Beans 90c, Sugar $1 25, Tea, $3, Bacon, $1 12, Coffee, $1 50, Candles, $3 25, Salt $1 25, all retail prices.

About 120 men are wintering out there, and some four inches of snow was on the creek.

At the mouth of Quesnelle nearly all the Indians were down with the smallpox. The majority of the tribe had died. The disease had been promulgated from the Bute Coast Indians who have been gradually receding to the Interior. The complaint according to siwash accounts is heavy on the new trail.

It is reported that horses and mules are just now dying in great numbers throughout British Columbia. The mortality is said to be occasioned by the consumption of a poisonous grass; the animals are also suffering from foot rot, which causes the diseased hoofs to fall off.

The Colonist of the 9th inst contains news from the new Colony of Stekin to about the 1st of October.

A Mr Brown obtained a prospect of from 1½ to 2 cents to the pan from his claim situated about 100 yards above the North Fork, upon the main river.

He had also proceeded about 30 miles above the canon by the Indian trail, but though fully convinced of the existence of remunerative gold fields higher up his party were obliged to abandon further exploration, owing to the impossibility of conveying provisions any further without animals.

Mr Brown is a professional packer, and expresses his opinion that the said Indian trail is unfit for trains of mules to run upon without considerable improvement being effected owing to the swampy nature of the country, that renders it liable so easily to be cut up. He is however fully convinced that the trail is practicable for a few animals to be taken through by a party of miners desiring to prospect, though constant traffic would render the road impassable.

About fifty men in all remain in the Stekin country—a German company and a Greek company upon the North Fork, and the remainder distributed on various points of the river—Carpenter's, Fiddler's, and Buck's bars, and Shakesville.

THE BLOCKADE OF BERMUDA.—The offence taken by the British at Admiral Wilkes conduct at Bermuda is explained by the subjoined extract from the London Times of the 27th of October.

The island has been strictly blockaded by a Federal squadron under Commodore Wilkes, since September 27th, on which day he entered the harbor in the Wachusett, accompanied by the gunboat Tioga, leaving another gunboat (the Sonoma) to keep guard at the entrance of the harbor, and under pretense of coaling and repairs remained at anchor until the 1st of October, on which day he left and the Sonoma entered and commenced coaling and left on the [illegible] of October. The three vessels had been in sight up to the day of the Gladiator leaving, October 7th, cruising about four miles from the land and at night anchoring in the fairway of the channel leading to St George's, so that it was impossible any vessel could get out or in without Captain Hornby [illegible] at [illegible] Merlin having been hailed at and brought to, and of the [illegible] The only British man of war at Bermuda was the Desperate. Captain Horn is of opinion that the coaling must have been a mere pretense, as the squadron was only four days from Fortress Monroe, and that the quantity of coals taken on board by the three vessels was not sufficient to coal one, had it really needed them.

John Slidell has been admitted to an audience with the French Emperor. John is getting up in the world and if he ever meets his deserts he will have an audience with Jack Ketch and take a still higher step.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING DEC 18 1862

Cross Purposes —The secretaryship of Washington Territory must be an important office judging from the struggle of Mr L Jay S Turney to retain it He is removed and the appointment of his successor has failed to remove him He grasps the reigns of the secretaryship with a tenacity that would be praiseworthy if properly directed Mr Elwood Evans, the man appointed has collided with Mr Turney on the subject of postage for the members On the 11th of December, Mr Evans notifies the Clerk of the House, that "all letters, newspapers and documents addressed by any member or officer of the House during its session to any person within the limits of the Territory or upon any Legislative business will be charged to and paid by this office The Postmaster of Olympia will receive and forward without expense to the members or officers all such mail matter as is endorsed upon the superscription, with the name of such member or officer " On the 12th inst, Mr Turney writes to the Clerk "Please inform your Honorable Body that Postmaster Williams refuses to furnish me stamps with which to pay the postage of the members, and that I am unwilling to subject the Government to imposition by authorizing matter to be passed through the mails, and charge to account I regret this refusal and the consequent hardship to Honorable members, but know of no way to remedy the evil " Now, this appears to be a pretty fight as it stands, with the chances in favor of Evans, Turney had better give up the contest and appeal to the people—run for Delegate to Congress. His original design was to do so, and he had better adhere to it He can depend on the Eastern District to sustain him against the unparallelled usurpations of Evans We hope to see Turney put forth a protest, then come out in a card, then start a newspaper a la Kendall, and abuse everybody in general. It is said that Evans—in addition to getting Turney's place—adds insult to injury by continually singing, to himself

"The jay bird sat on a swinging limb,
He winked at me and I winked at him
I picked up a rock and hit him on the shin
That's the way I took the jay bird in

Public Opinion —The exchange list of the Oregonian includes as wide a variety of newspapers, as any paper published on this coast We assume, that by reading the newspapers of a country, a very fair estimate of the public opinion existing therein, can be arrived at, if we are disposed to judge candidly Here and there, among our cotemporaries, we find indications of a feeling of partisan exultation but the overwhelming evidence of the press is, that men were elected to Congress almost solely on account of their entire devotion to the Union Perhaps a dozen hideous political lepers have got into Congress under the once honored name of Democrat, as many Republicans may have been defeated for their too unguarded zeal in the cause of Emancipation Here and there, we meet a Secession journal, published in a loyal community but its very typography—its bad spelling and worse grammar—betrays its character Its natural baseness is shown in its mechanical execution, and the very ink appears to have a scrofulous taint From all sources, the proofs are that the Union feeling runs higher, deeper, wider and stronger than at any time since the war broke out

From an Aspirant —The Hon Paul K Hubbs is an aspirant for the position of Delegate to Congress from Washington Territory In a recent letter to the Lewiston paper he gives his views on the question of dividing the Territory, in the following perspicuous language

In the ancient times mountains formed natural divisions but we are in a progressive period and there are no mountains susceptible of being pierced by railroad, and the great northern road of which Congress has already made recognition by a preliminary grant, will most effectually unite the east and the west of the Cascades, the one the producing the other the commercial and lumbering portion of the State

Compensation for Slaves —The policy of the Administration appears to be to get the Border Slave States to accept compensation for their slaves Newspapers, generally, look upon this proposition as of no account, because it does not do more than reconcile the Border States to the Free States We look upon it as of the first importance on that very account If we had to day the hearty co operation of Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina against Secessionism, this rebellion's existence might be counted in months on your fingers

Washington Legislature —On the 13th December Mr Simms, of Walla Walla, was elected President of the Council on the fifth ballot Mr Brown was elected Chief Clerk Mr Moses was elected Assistant Clerk — Ninety seven ballots failed to elect a Sergeant at arms

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City

CITY COUNCIL.—The Common Council met last evening. Present—Messrs. Hallock, Holmes, Silvers, Williams and President.

On motion of Mr. Holmes the regular order of business was dispensed with and the Council proceeded to the election of a Clerk.

Mr. Silvers nominated S. J. Conger. Mr. Hallock nominated [illegible] S. Anderson.

After several ballotings, during which Mr. Dennison appeared and took his seat, Mr. Conger's name was withdrawn, and Mr. Anderson received five out of six votes and was declared elected.

A remonstrance from Sylvester Pennoyer in relation to grades was presented and filed.

A petition was presented from Vigilance H. & L. Co. in relation to [illegible] sustained by the Company in paying out Legal Tenders received from the City. Protection Engine Co. No. 4, sent in a petition in relation to buying an Engine, asking the assistance of the City. Both petitions were referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Committee on Fire and Water reported favorable on paying James Burk $40 for rent of house for Engine Company No. 3. Ordered paid.

Petition of Michael Moore, to tap gas pipe, was granted on condition of his paying into the City Treasury one third of the cost of main pipe leading into Engine House No. 3.

A communication was received from the Chief Engineer, relative to the relinquishment by Willamette Engine Company of the engine which they now use to Protection Co. No. 4. Referred to Committee on Fire and Water.

The City Assessor presented supplemental report of all persons not previously assessed for 1862-3, amounting to $19 307. It was attached to the original assessment.

The Street Commissioner reported some repairs necessary on street lamps. Laid on the table.

Claims amounting to about $12) on account of expenses incurred for small pox patient and paying his funeral expenses were presented by the City Marshal. After transacting some unimportant business, the Council adjourned.

THE CHEAP JOHNS.—We have noticed for some days past an inclination to be noisy on the part of our neighbors, the "Cheap Johns." We think they have as good a right to be noisy on the street as anybody else, and not a bit better. Last night they let out out a link, and were unusually vociferous. We propose to them to moderate their clamor, or else—we shall see what we will see.

Influenza and Bronchitis.—Thousands who suffer from these complaints are ignorant of the fact that Dr. WM HALL'S BALSAM is peculiarly fitted to their cure, a few days use of it being generally sufficient to subdue the cough, and remove every unpleasant symptom.

General Agents for the Pacific Coast
REDINGTON & CO.,

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches" or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them [illegible] for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement. dec16daw3m

White's Patent Lever Trusses.—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever yet applied. The principle is new and different from any other. The Pad works over a Knuckle, giving it a circular INWARD and UPWARD motion, thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other Trusses. The pain consequent upon heavy pressure is thereby avoided.

These instruments will not rust, and are the lightest, most durable and most cleanly of all others. They can be washed at pleasure. Many persons have been cured by them of ruptures of several years standing.

White's Fever and Ague Drops—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed, in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure in Ague, especially, one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases, and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

Prepared only by ROBERT WHITE, Chemist and Druggist, Main street, Placerville, and Broadway, Upper Placerville. For sale by all respectable Druggists throughout the State.

CARSON & PORTER

Portland [illegible]

Justified.—Gen. Julius White, was much blamed for the surrender of Harper's Ferry. The telegraph informed us that he was justified. We take space to publish the official account of the transactions in which he was engaged, and his acquittal by Gen. Hunter and Col. Joseph Ho[illegible].

Gen. Julius White will soon be exchanged, and may be assigned a command under Gen. Hunter, who has asked for him. This is a high compliment from the President of the Military Commission which had his conduct at Winchester and Harper's Ferry under consideration. The favorable report of his conduct at the latter place has already been published. The following is the report touching his conduct at Winchester, which was assailed at that time by the newspapers:

That on September 2d, 1862, Gen. White received from the General-in-Chief, Major-General Halleck, the following telegram:

"You will immediately abandon the fortifications at Winchester, sending the heavy guns under escort by rail to Harper's Ferry. If this cannot be done, they should be rendered unserviceable. Having sent off your artillery, you will withdraw your whole force to Harper's Ferry."

That Brigadier-General White, having no cavalry with which to make the necessary reconnoissance and find, if possible, the military exigencies of the move, he telegraphed to the Commander-in-Chief for an answer explanatory of the order; but the lines being down he could receive no response, and accordingly put in requisition all the means, by rail and otherwise, of transportation he possessed.

Having been advised, in response to his telegram to Harper's Ferry, that no more cars could be had, and after destroying what stores he could not carry away, the stores so destroyed not amounting to any considerable sum, and rendering unserviceable the four heavy guns that could not be removed, he fell back with his forces in good order, to Harper's Ferry. The Commission therefore holds that Brigadier-General White acted in accordance with the order given him by the General in charge, and is absolved from all blame in evacuating, and in the manner of the evacuation of the post at Winchester, it appearing from the evidence that he conducted the movement as a cool and calculating officer.

Exchange of Prisoners.—The following contradicts the generally received idea that the account of prisoners was in favor of the rebels:

Col. Ludlow, an able and intelligent officer on the staff of Gen. Dix, has just completed arrangements with the rebel Commissioners for a mutual exchange of all prisoners of war. The result, as given in a report from Fortress Monroe, is more favorable to us than was generally expected. The boasts of the rebels, of the immense number of prisoners they have taken from us, prove to have as little foundation as many of their other assertions; and the account now stands in our favor by about six thousand privates and six hundred and seven officers. Thus, though at Harper's Ferry and on some other occasions we have lost more than the enemy, and thus given him occasion for his boasts, it appears that on the whole, and taking the West with the East, the advantage is largely with us. What is thus true of prisoners is true equally of the general results of the war. The rebels may have gained some slight advantage in the East, but their blows have been returned with heavy interest in the West; and our losses on the Peninsula have been made up by the successes of the armies under Rosecrans, Grant, Schofield, Curtis, Mitchell, Morgan and others. The average of success, like the surplus of prisoners held, is on our side; and now that an energetic and hitherto always successful Captain is at the head of our greatest army, we may hope to see the East retrieve for itself what it has lost, and rival the West in the celerity and value of its operations.—New York Evening Post, November 18th.

Gen. Hooker.—A late number of the New York Tribune, extols the military qualities of Gen. Hooker. We quote that paper's language:

In the history of that desperate yet indecisive day which has made Antietam a terrible household word, the central interest is the contest on the right, where General Hooker fought. Beginning it with unhesitating promptness in the reconnoissance of the night before, he sustained it unaided and with unflinching resolution for four hours of Wednesday morning, till a rebel bullet drove him from the field. Its incidents are fresh in all memories; his exact and decisive handling of troops on the difficult ground in the dusk of evening; his sagacity in seizing positions; the rare coolness of judgment with which he silenced his artillery that he might not reveal his lines; his brilliant tactics of the next morning; the iron resolution with which he held his troops firm against crushing odds; their devotion, inspired by his courage and exposure; his keen insight into the battle; his energy in pursuing his success—in a word, the consummate generalship which he displayed throughout, made him the hero of the battle. His Peninsular engagements had shown that he possessed the acquirements, the capacity, the personal force, which are the elements of military greatness. Antietam revealed, also, that indefinable supremacy of intellect which we call military genius. And beyond all other qualifications, Gen. Hooker is in earnest; has put his heart into this war; believes that the rebellion can and ought to be crushed; that armed resistance to lawful authority must be subdued by arms; that the life of the nation is to be preserved, whatever goes down under the martial tread of its defenders.

The following speech by Gen. McClellan comes by Overland Mail. It was made on the occasion of his arrival at Trenton, New Jersey, after his removal from the command of the Army of the Potomac, on the 16th of November:

My friends: For I feel you are all my friends—I stand before you not as a maker of speeches, not as a politician, but as a soldier. I came among you to seek quiet and repose, and from the moment of my arrival I have received nothing but kindness. Although I appear before you as a stranger, I am not altogether unacquainted with your history. Your gallant soldiers were with me in every battle from the siege of Yorktown to the battle of Antietam, and here I bear witness to their devotion to the cause for which we are fighting. [Here the uproar compelled the General to cease for a few moments.] I also have to speak of the ever faithful Taylor; the dashing, intrepid Kearney—men who have given their lives for the maintenance of our Government. And before bidding you good night, I have this piece of advice to give you: While the army is fighting, you as citizens see that the war is prosecuted for the preservation of the Union and the Constitution, for your nationality and rights as citizens.
